TEACHERS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

You are making a difference
You matter!
We want to support you

The Solihull Approach offers:

- A transformative way of thinking about emotional regulation, nurturing wellbeing and behaviour
- Professional training, short courses and bespoke offers for all school staff
- Curriculum resources to structure and help bring lessons on emotional development to life
- Specific online courses on teenage brain development for pupils and for parents
- Free, accessible online courses for every parent*
- Online course for parents of children with additional needs

'[The Solihull Approach] has changed my views of behaviour. When I see what I might have considered as ADHD, I now look and think why they are behaving this way. I try to be more understanding.'

'I have been involved with young people for over 30 years and it changed the way that I engage not just with young people but colleagues and family.'

Post-pandemic, the number of children needing professional mental health support has increased by more than 50%

1.49M pupils with SEN in 2022 following an increase over the past five years.
